THE STORY

Julia, 66, lives in Cody with her animals, including two dogs and two cats. A mother, Julia aspires to move closer to her children, all of whom reside in New England. Unfortunately, she suffers from extensive health problems, including diabetes and arthritis. She also struggles with mental health challenges, though her animals offer her some emotional support. In addition to these hardships, Julia also had seriously-neglected dental problems: some of her teeth had begun to decay, and her existing partial denture didn't fit correctly.

Julia had been diligent in maintaining her dental health, receiving annual checkups provided through a Medicaid waiver. However, her dental problems were more extensive than were covered through Medicaid, and the necessary treatment was beyond what she was able to afford on her own. Unable to work, she survives on only a small Social Security benefit and struggles to make ends

HOW DDS HELPED

Fortunately, Julia was able to get the help she needed through the Donated Dental Services (DDS) program, when a DDS volunteer dentist and lab stepped in.

Who Helped: Dr. David Taylor, A volunteer dentist, restored seven of Julia's decayed teeth, and with the help of Trident Dental Laboratories, donated two crowns. Thanks to these kind volunteers, Julia received nearly $3,400 in donated treatment that restored her dental health.

“Dr. T. is exceptional and I am very appreciative to have teeth. They were excellent.”
